SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 7, 1867.

The Proposed Amnesty Proclamation. There seems to be little doubt that Mr. Johnson is about to issue a proclamation of amnesty to all or nearly all the persons concerned in the late Rebellion. Practically, this will be of very little moment, as there is not much likelihood of any of them would ever be brought to trial or punishment anyhow.

It has been suggested that the granting of an amnesty by the President would work a removal of the disability to take part in the work of reconstruction imposed by Congress upon certain leaders of the Rebellion. The New York Herald has urged with considerable persistence the granting of an amnesty on this very ground.

Perhaps he has concluded to make no more pretense of obeying and executing the laws, but to manage matters according to his own will. If so, the sooner he demonstrates that fact by some definite overt act the better.

Among the business of the Fenian Congress on Thursday, it is said to have been the adoption of resolutions relating to American citizens in British prisons; also, the appointment of a committee to confer with the Fenian Sisterhood.

What fearful import may be conveyed in this brief paragraph it is idle to speculate upon. Great Britain can cope with the male Fenians; can shoot them down and conquer them.

THE HOWLAND WILL CASE.—One of the most singular and important will cases ever tried in New England is soon to come before the United States Circuit Court in Boston.

THE WILL OFFERED FOR PROBATE on the 4th of August, 1866, when it was contested by the heir-at-law, Mrs. Greene, but after one postponement and a hearing, it was admitted.

LESSON OF THE ACCIDENT.—The frightful accident in Connecticut, in which ten lives were lost by the breaking of a railroad bridge, should teach us the necessity of having regularly appointed inspectors, State officials, who should examine into the condition of the various bridges, and report sensibly and truly of their condition.

BACK IN THE RANKS.—The Press, which a few days since endorsed Judge Ludlow and advocated his reelection to the Bench, declares itself this morning, in a most emphatic leader, in favor of the Hon. M. Russell Thayer.

STILL BETTER.—Mr. McCulloch makes a correction in his statement of the national debt for September, which decidedly improves the aspect of our balance-sheet. He finds that instead of having a debt of $2,505,458,095-05, we have only $2,492,783,305-05, or a decline of about thirteen millions more than reported.

THE UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA.—We are glad to see that the advice contained in our article on "Universities," published some weeks since, has received the attention of the Trustees of the University of Pennsylvania, and that they have adopted some of the suggestions we ventured to throw out.

AN ANCIENT FOREST.—In the course of excavations at Hull, England, the navies have come upon a stratum of dark soil, in which a number of trees in horizontal position were met with.

NEEDLES.—Needles were first made in London by a negro from Spain, in the reign of Queen Mary. He died without imparting the secret of his art.

GOOD FORTUNE.—A poor man in Preston, England, has received a legacy of a very gratifying character. For seven or eight years he has been a pauper on the sick list, and about a year ago, when his wife died, he broke up his house and was sent to the Preston Workhouse, where he was maintained up to a recent period, when he received an intimation that a fortune had been left him.

UNDER WEIGHTS.—On the 24th of August the justices of the Tower Hamlets, London, fined fifty-eight tradesmen for the use of false scales, weights, and measures.

MARRIAGE.—Count Henry Esterhazy has just married the Countess Kovr, daughter of the late Madame Bonaparte.

COASTLY OBSTINACY.—There are two men in prison in England whose fate it has been to illustrate the nature of lawyers' bills on a magnificent scale.

ORANGEMEN.—The Orangemen of Belfast, following the example of those of Londonderry, have given an entertainment to the Canadian Grand Master, John Hillyard Cameron.

MARRIED SOLDIERS.—An order from the British War Office has been recently issued limiting the number of soldiers who are to receive permission to marry to seven per cent. of the whole establishment of a corps.
